Educators,

My name is Anthony Bass. I am a supervisor at the Air Traffic Control Tower at San Antonio International Airport, as well as a certified flight instructor. Currently I'm on assignment in Washington D.C., but return to San Antonio frequently.

I know you're busy as the school year wraps up, but please take a moment to read the attached letter. It could make a world of difference for one or more of your students.

The San Antonio Aviation Career Education (ACE) Camp is in it's fifth year, and we'd like to get information to as many students as possible about this very unique, and essentially free day camp. I say free because the only charge is $25 to hold a spot after a student is accepted. Everything else, including camp t-shirts (2), snacks, meals, transportation to and from tour sites, pens, paper, etc. is provided free of charge to the student. We are able to do this through generous corporate donations, sponsorships and use of volunteers. The educational content and pure fun of the camp is priceless and can have a big impact on career decisions made by your students.

The camp Director is Mr. Calvin Allen. He is a Captain for Delta Airlines on the Boeing 757/767, and although this is our fifth year, he's been involved with ACE camps across the country for many years. Together, and with many other volunteers, we put together a camp that impresses upon our students the need for education no matter what field they may enter, and more specifically, we introduce them to a wide variety of occupations under the umbrella of aviation (pilots, mechanics, accountants, lawyers, computer programmers, aviation doctors, etc.).

You may contact us at any of the ways listed in the letter, or you can call me directly at (c)210-685-0801 or (w)202-385-6172.

Thank you,

Tony Bass
